DANIEL RÍOS ZEA

Junior Web Application Developer

Web Application Development student with hands-on experience in Java, web technologies and AI-assisted development. My background in industrial engineering and automation gives me a structured, problem-solving mindset. I learn fast, enjoy working in teams and like turning complex problems into simple, user-friendly solutions.

EXPERIENCE

Software Development Intern

Apr 2026 - May 2026

Datalsia · Seville · Work-based training

- Researched and wrote technical reports on applied AI: local LLM inference, model benchmarking on low-resource hardware and hybrid local/cloud architectures.
- Audited an internal codebase and documented 14 technical findings, including concurrency and data-streaming issues and a credential-exposure risk.
- Applied Spec-Driven Development with AI coding tools and presented research results to the team.

Administrative Assistant

2022 - Present

- Managed document filing and digitization, handling confidential company information.
- Coordinated schedules, handled phone and in-person customer service, and supported management with reports and correspondence.
